

FULL-TIME STUDENT DEFINITION POLICY

Approved by Administrative Council 2/08/2016; Updated 11/25/2019; Updated 8/30/2021

Effective date 12/01/2019; Updated Effective Date 9/06/2021

College of Pharmacy and College of Dental Medicine:

Roseman University recognizes students enrolled in eight (8) credit hours during a financial aid payment period as a minimum full-time course load.

MBA Program:

Roseman University recognizes students enrolled in twelve (12) credit hours over the course of the regular academic year (not including summer courses) as a minimum full-time course load.

College of Nursing:

Roseman University recognizes undergraduate students in the College Nursing enrolled in twelve (12) credit hours during a financial aid payment period as a minimum full-time course load.

Roseman University recognizes students in the Master of Science in Nursing/Family Nurse Practitioner (MSN/FNP) degree enrolled in six (6) credit hours during a financial aid payment period as a minimum full-time course load.

College of Graduate Studies: Roseman University recognizes students in the College of Graduate Studies enrolled in six (6) credit hours during a financial aid payment period as a minimum full-time course load.